Japanese International Relations	International Trade
Japanese History and Culture	Japanese Financial System
Japanese Law and Society	Environment and Business
Japanese Economy

The above courses will take place in English and are subject to change.

ACCOMMODATION

Hiroshima University of Economics offers our exchange students studio type of student housing. As renting a room/apartment in Japan is quite complicated, and they do not normally provide short-term (5-6 months) lease, you will need to stay in the accommodation we offer. Detailed accommodation information and request form will be mailed to the students who are admitted to the program.

SCHOLARSHIP

A limited number of scholarships are available from HUE (Hiroshima University of Economics) to exchange students.

HUE – monthly stipend of 50,000 yen (September - January)

A separate application form and certificate of enrollment (signed by international coordinator) are needed if you are applying for scholarship. Please note that you have to have a good GPA (2.30 on a 3.00 scale) to apply for scholarship. We will notify international student coordinator/advisor once we made the decision on the scholarship grantees.

Participation Fee: JPY 220,000

OSA Participant has to complete the payment before coming. This amount will be applied to their rent, utilities (water/gas/electricity/internet) and program operation.
